The Sun's twisted thinking

As was to have been expected, The Vancouver Sun has gone off half-cocked in its comments on Premier Bennett's speech made here last week.

This was to be expected because if any newspaper can incorrectly report a story or draw incorrect conclusions from a set of facts, that newspaper is the Sun.

Especially, if the story on the matter under discussion is an Interior matter.

It happens so frequently that one is forced to wonder if it actually can be accidental.

Basically, of course, one only needs to read that newspaper for a very short time to realize that it is in favor of nothing not in the Vancouver area and is aggressively opposed to anything which will advance any section of the province a score of miles away from the mouth of the Fraser River.

Twisted headlines, slanted stories and half-truth editorials are all part of its stock in trade in its efforts to confine the growth of the province to the Lower Mainland.

On Friday The Sun editorially objected to the suggestion that an Okanagan Lake bridge might be built and the Premier's statement that it was an economically sound proposition.

The Sun also objected to the Interior roads being improved.

It cried "politics."

It said—by inference, at least—that the building of a bridge would interfere with the highway program. It did recognize that the bridge would be built under the toll authority but it failed to carry through its statement and tell its readers that the users of the bridge—the people of the Okanagan—would pay for the bridge through tolls and that not one cent would be diverted from highway construction for the construction of this bridge. The public work's highway program and the toll authority expenditures are two quite different things. The toll authority merely is the means of raising money for bridge construction; money which is paid back by the users of the bridge. The Sun conveniently "forgot" this fact.

"He also said," the Sun cried, "that the government plans to spend millions on roads in the Interior. He did not need to tell them that a great deal of money is already being spent on roads in his own riding." That statement is neither fair nor correct. It demonstrates the Sun's complete lack of knowledge of the geography of this province and it reveals the Sun's antagonism for development in the Interior.

Actually, South Okanagan, the Premier's own riding has not enjoyed the highway construction which has taken place in other constituencies. If the Sun cares to look up the boundaries of South Okanagan it will find that on the only highway through the Okanagan there has been less construction than in any riding that highway touches south of the CPR mainline.

"The great deal of money" which, according to the Sun "is now being spent on roads in his own riding," amounts to $208,000, the contract figure for four miles of reconstruction north of Summerland. A "great deal of money?"

As for the "plans to spend millions on roads in the Interior" which the Sun objects to, Mr. Bennett did say that 97 would be rebuilt through Summerland and the stretch south of Peachland would be done and, eventually, the Woods Lake-Oyama section. These projects he estimated would cost about two million dollars. "Millions?" And for the Sun's information, it may be pointed out that this latter stretch of Highway 97 is not in Mr. Bennett's home constituency, but in North Okanagan.

The Peachland-Summerland stretch of Highway 97, to the reconstruction of which the Sun objects, is the worst stretch of the main north-south road through this province. It is narrow, rough and dangerous; it has blind corners and poor shoulders. But the Sun's attitude suggests it is good enough for we who dwell in what it thinks of as the hinterland.

The Sun's contention that for political purposes Mr. Bennett is pouring "millions" into roadwork in his own constituency cannot be substantiated. It is true that at long last we are receiving some of the attention to the highway in this area which has been long overdue. But, this is part of the over-all construction program of the department and is simply filling in the gaps which were left till the last. That some of these happen to be in South Okanagan and it happens Mr. Bennett is Premier is simply a coincidence. No matter whom were premier, this work had to be done.

The Sun is all hot and bothered about the phrase "top priority" used in connection with the proposed Okanagan Lake bridge. It, the newspaper, is small enough to suggest that because Mr. Bennett is Premier, the Okanagan Lake Bridge will be built before the Sun's own pet, the Marpole bridge. How silly can the Sun get?

In the first place there is no suggestion, as yet, that the Marpole bridge will be built under the toll authority. If it should be, there is no reason whatsoever why these two, and more, should not be under construction at the same time. Each is its own proposition.

As for "priority," Mr. Bennett never did say or intimate that the Okanagan Lake bridge would come before any other. In fact, he said exactly the opposite. He did say that the Agassiz-Rosedale and the Nelson bridges would have precedence over it. Answering a question, he said the need in the provincial picture would be the deciding factor in priority, not the time of application to the toll authority. In the light of this we are glad to say that if Marpole should be built under the toll authority and should it become a question of priority between the Sun's Marpole and the Okanagan Lake bridge, we are quite sure that the toll authority would give the priority to the Marpole construction. The Sun, we feel, is needlessly worried; trying to make a case.

The Sun calls its Marpole bridge a "political football." It can call the Marpole bridge anything it likes, as far as we are concerned, but we resent, and strongly resent, the suggestion that the Okanagan Lake bridge is a "political football." There has never been any suggestion of politics at any time in connection with the proposal; that is, not until the Sun took this snide crack at Mr. Bennett. It is a remark for which there is no justification. The bridge was the baby of Hon. E. C. Carson and the Coalition government; not of Mr. Bennett. The survey was made during Mr. Carson's regime as a minister of the Coalition Government, not by Mr. Bennett and the Social Credit Government. The current move is only following along the plans made years ago by the former government and the

HOME FOR BRIEF HOLIDAY

Dutch airline pilot claims Ethiopians are intelligent people but they fail to make use of their abilities

Ethiopians are the most intelligent race of peoples in Africa but they fail to make use of their abilities. So says Kelowna-born pilot Geoff Rennie, here over the holidays with his wife and young daughter to make his first visit home to see his parents at 2650 North Street since 1946.

Now with KLM (Dutch) Airlines, based at Amsterdam, Rennie spent about 18 months in Ethiopia as private pilot to Emperor Haile Selassie after the war.

Ethiopia, to the non-Ethiopian, is a "paradise" of good wages, "terrific climate" and pleasant living. The resort of wealthy Egyptians, it contains historically close ties with Egypt but racially has nothing in common with its close neighbor, says Rennie.

NO HARD FEELINGS

Although heavily bombed prior to the last war by the Italians and having suffered tremendous loss of manpower because of that conflict, Ethiopians—particularly the farmers—hold no grievance with Italy and many workers on the land have cause to thank their former enemy for the manner in which he broke up, then redistributed, feudal lands.

Politics in Ethiopia are of a rather deadly nature, says the Kelownian, but Emperor Selassie, while bound to be a major figure in the political situation, is a likeable, sincere ruler.

Following his flying stint in Ethiopia, Rennie spent some time in the Sudan, flying for a British charter airline service. Of Sudan he says, it's a country "made precious out of nothing," containing a racial mixture of Europeans, Arabs, Arab-Negroes and natives to the south, who "are among the most primitive on earth."

RETURNED TO ENGLAND

Rennie, 35-year-old RCAF veteran—

an, took his discharge at Vancouver in 1946 and left shortly for England—working his way across the Atlantic on a "horse-boat" for $60 cash and "thousands of cigarettes." He has not been back to Canada since his recent return.

A lover of warm climates, the RCAF veteran returned with his family to Amsterdam's "cold, wet and miserable weather" last week-end and got back to flying his KLM Far Eastern and European route on arrival.

For a wartime pilot "who couldn't find commercial flying work in Canada" after his discharge, pilot Rennie has more than made up overseas the deficiency of work he found here.

Bill Embrey, of B.C. Tree Fruits, was a navigator for Mr. Rennie when overseas in the last war.

Salvation Army "kettle" receipts during Christmas week total $970

The Salvation Army collected a total of $970.07 as a result of the Christmas "kettle" which was erected in front of the post office for six days prior to Dec. 25. According to Major Winifred Fitch, the money was spent in the following manner:

Spent on gift certificates for meat and groceries (55 families, 110 children), $402.00.

One load of wood, $9.00.

One load of coal, $17.50.

Sunshine bags for sick and shut-in, (225 packed and distributed) $110.25.

Gift toward operation of injured girl, $100.

One artificial limb repaired in time to be used for Christmas, $15.75.

Balance of $315.47 will be used for local relief during the coming months.

Major Fitch paid tribute to those who had assisted the Salvation Army, especially members of the Kelowna Volunteer Fire Brigade who helped fill toy orders. The firemen operated a Christmas toy shop, and were responsible for distribution of toys to 158 children.

NATURE'S ALL UPSET!

Mushrooms picked! Roses in bloom! Meadow larks singing! A lamb born!

Mrs. M. V. H. Browne, of Wilson Landing, may have had to do a little grubbing in the snow during the past few days to find mushrooms, but prior to Thursdays snowfall she experienced no trouble at all in harvesting the delectable morsels.

In fact, Bob Wilson and H. C. S. Collett received the gift of a basket of them from Mrs. Browne.

Mrs. Browne, in wishing the editor of the Courier a happy new year exclaimed:

"Mushrooms in January! Three weeks ago there was no sign of them—not even a button. Now the beds on the lakeside are again bearing luxuriously, being covered with their pink-tipped blossoms, and there is a crop of dozens and dozens of beauties to be harvested!"

Not only do mushrooms abound, but last week roses were being picked from local gardens; pansies, as many as sixteen in a clump—lifted their velvety heads, and the voices of meadow-larks and other birds were heard in the land.

The first lamb of the season has arrived, too! H. H. Vickers, from his ranch in the Okanagan Mission district, reports that when he went out to tend his flock last Wednesday morning he discovered its arrival. Cold and wet, the youngster looked more dead than alive, but soon revived on being carried into the warmth of the house.

"Happy New Year" indeed!

COUNCIL MEETING

City Council meets tonight in the Council Chamber, City Hall, at eight o'clock.

240 homes constructed here in five years despite fact cost per unit up $3,121

Something to blow about!

There are a few red faces around town these days and for good reason. Mark Rose is conducting a Wednesday night adult band group at the senior high school. To date about eight adults, mostly parents of junior band pupils, are huffing and causing encouraging noises to emanate from a variety of wind instruments.

The group would like a few more members to augment the French horn, sax, clarinets, trombone and trumpets now in use. The qualifications are simple: You must be a beginner, beg, borrow or rent (or even buy) an instrument and show up at the senior high school this Wednesday at 7:30 p.m.

Police chief transferred to Burnaby

Two postings from the Kelowna detachment of the RCMP here have been announced.

Sgt. Thomas A. Quigley, officer in charge here and the only remaining member of the former Kelowna detachment of the B.C. Provincial Police, leaves shortly to take up duties at Burnaby.

Sgt. Quigley will be replaced here by Cpl. Kelly Irving, from Haney, B.C.

The sergeant has been here for nearly four years. A second posting involved Const. Pat C. Gurr, who left here January 4 to join the Revelstoke detachment of the RCMP.

Replacement of Const. Gurr has

Building permit values show increase of $109,344 over 1952

Although the peak of Kelowna's post-war building boom was reached in 1948, a total of 240 new houses have been constructed since that time, despite the fact that the average cost per unit has jumped $3,121 in the last five years.

This was disclosed by building inspector A. E. Clark in a year-end review of construction values. Last year 222 permits were issued for a total value of $611,374.22, an increase of $109,344.22 over 1952. During this same period, 35 residences were built at a cost of $322,195 at an average cost per unit of $9,206.

The city has just about reached the saturation point insofar as desirable lots, at a reasonable price, are concerned, until new subdivisions are opened up. Many choice pieces of property are being held by outside residents who plan building here when they retire.

In 1949, 86 residences were constructed at a cost of $523,588, or an average cost per unit of $6,085. In 1950, 73 homes were built at a cost of $539,660.50, or an average cost of $7,390.

The average cost per unit jumped to $10,200 in 1951, when 24 residences were constructed at a cost of $245,121. The following year, 22 homes were built for $184,437, or an average cost per unit of $8,380.

In 1953, 35 homes were constructed for $322,195, or an average cost of $9,206.

Twenty years ago, the 12-month building permit values were $82,423; ten years ago (during the war) construction was valued at $47,248, and last year, building permits were valued at $611,374.

PERMITS ISSUED

During the year, the following permits were issued:

One commercial building permit valued at $1,500; two public building permits valued at $80,896; two public building additions, $1,250; three business buildings, $11,000; 27 business building additions, $107,785; 35 residences, $222,195; 63 residences, $47,248.

Births, deaths increase in '53

Births and deaths showed an increase here in 1953 but there were 17 fewer marriages than in 1952.

Figures released by B.C. government agent Ross Outman disclosed that there were 453 births in 1953, 198 deaths and 177 marriages in the Kelowna area last year.

In 1952, there were 418 births, 161 deaths and 194 marriages.

More births were registered in August than any other month, while the monthly average was 38, new, $450.

Human skull found on beach

A human skull was washed up on the shores of Lake Okanagan Saturday morning a short distance from the lakeshore home of Mr. and Mrs. John Godfrey, 273 Burne Avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey's daughter, 12-year-old Judith, is shown holding the skull after she discovered it lying in about eight inches of water.

One local doctor thought it was a "very old skull"—probably that of an Indian. The lower jaw bone is missing, although the rest of the skull is well preserved. It has been turned over to the RCMP, and will probably be sent to the police laboratory at Regina for examination.

Is the Okanagan heading for another mild winter?

Is the Okanagan going to enjoy the same mild winter as last year when the temperature failed to drop lower than 11 above?

While old-timers of Kelowna boastfully declare this is "usual" weather for this time of the year, comparatively newcomers to the city well-remember the cold winter of 1949-50.

However, for the record, the thermometer did not slip lower than 23 above last month, although at Joe Rich, a low of two above was recorded on the 15th of the month. December high in Kelowna was 48 above on the 5th, according to weatherman R. P. Walrod.

Average high was 42.8 degrees, while the low was 30.06.

Total rainfall was 1.37 inches, while .35 inch of snow was registered.

At Joe Rich, Mrs. Mary Weddell recorded December 12 as the warmest day when the mercury hit 39.5 degrees, but dipped to two degrees on the 15th to hit its lowest point.

No rain was recorded at Joe Rich; but 30.50 inches of snow mantled the ground over the 31-day period.

Prolonged lumber strike ends in northern B.C.

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

A 99-day strike of woodworkers in British Columbia's northern interior has ended and the mills are in full operation again.

The deadlock ended when the workers, members of the International Woodworkers of America (CIO-CCL) accepted a new proposal including a 5½-cent hourly wage boost and a maintenance of clause in the contract. It also calls for non-discrimination against unionists in the strike and improved annual vacation pay.

An estimated 5,000 persons were unemployed during the strike of 1,600 IWA members in the north. The non-IWA workers were made idle when mills and lumber operations halted.

The union originally sought an 18-cent hourly wage increase. The basic rate was $12.94.

NORTHERN RAILWAY
The aim of British Columbia's Social Credit government this year is for a railway into the heart of "the richest area in the world."

Attorney-general Robert Bonner told the Ad and Sales Bureau of the Vancouver Board of Trade during an address that extension of the Pacific Great Eastern railway from Prince George to Dawson Creek in the Peace River district is "essential for B.C.'s future."

"The Peace River is an empire within an empire," he said. "Our job is to be trading outlet for it. To do that, we must have the PGE from the Peace River to the coast."

At Kelowna during the week Premier Bennett said the PGE will be extended to Vancouver "with or without federal aid."

The cost for an extension from Squamish to North Vancouver has been estimated at $12,000,000.

He also said the legislature will "take a second look" at the 10-per cent liquor tax.

As it stands, he said, the tax is not operating the way it had been anticipated when the legislation was adopted at the last session of the legislature.

The tax, he said, works hardship on Canadian Legion and other clubs. He would suggest the government "take a second look" at it.

started this gypsy way of camping out they find that they can save money. Not money to put in the bank, but money to invest. I have noticed that as a rule, the less the present day traveller spends for his accommodation, the more bottles you find in his garbage can. There is just so much money to spend, so it is largely a matter of choice on what to spend it. Many a present day laborer who draws down two dollars or more per hour, is a cheap camper when it comes to paying for his accommodation; but is never short of money for whiskey and smokes.

In conclusion I might say that I am not sure just how I stand on government camp sites, as I am rather in favor of government ownership. But why pick on the resort owners? Why not include "the butcher, the baker, the candlestick maker"—every one, especially the newspapers and the Canadian Q.C. in this way. If it cannot be done, and if the government has extra money to spend for tourists, they are better advised to spend it on better roads for the tourists to drive on, and a little more advertising to let the tourists know we are here. Every business must have a reasonable return for labor, and money invested. If they are going to survive and keep up the quality of their services.

This applies to auto courts and resorts as well as to any other business. As a general rule, most parts of British Columbia now have too much accommodation to keep up the standard of their accommodation permanently. This may now apply to government campsites that are financed by the taxpayers' money and to every other industry as well.

Arthritis enjoy social evening at health centre

Kelowna Arthritis and Rheumatism Society sponsored a party for arthritis in the Community Health Centre Wednesday evening when about a dozen patients and their families enjoyed games, films and tasty refreshments between 8.00 and 11.00 o'clock.

It is hoped to make this party an annual affair, besides which other sorts of entertainment are being planned such as motor drives during blossom time; summer picnics and so on, when more patients can get out than is possible at this time of the year.

The films shown at Wednesday's party were taken by L. A. N. Potterton during his term of service with the old provincial police force in the Prince Rupert and Smithers areas, and showed a variety of shots taken at all seasons of the year. The wild-life, skiing, regatta, fishing, marine, regatta (Prince Rupert), and the splendid scenes of Babine Lake and the Babine mountains were thoroughly enjoyed. W. F. Goodland was in charge of the projector while Mr. Potterton commented on the pictures as they appeared.

Mrs. Bob Foote convened the evening's program, and Miss Dagne McGregor, physiotherapist, with Mrs. E. Winter, was in charge of the games. C. R. Bull, K.A.R.S. campaign manager, and Mrs. Bull; C. Dodds, president; A. C. Coates, vice-president, and Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Gray, Rutland and Rex, Marshall, Glenmore, all assisted in entertaining the guests.

Kelowna rink one of three to qualify for B.C. finals

A Kelowna rink skipped by Walter Hobbs was one of three which qualified here over the week-end for the Macdonald Brier finals for British Columbia to be held early next month at Trail.

The Hobbs rink, including Nels Clow and Orville and Norman Brownlee, beat the Fraser rink from Kamloops 12-11 after playing an extra end late Sunday night at the Curling Club.

Earlier, in the 5 p.m. draw, the Fraser rink defeated a Princeton rink after playing an extra end.

The extra end needed in the Hobbs-Princeton game came after measurements were taken which showed that both rinks were equal distance from the button.

A packed gallery applauded loudly as the local rink came through to victory and a qualifying position for the provincial finals during the week of February 8th.

OTHER QUALIFYING RINKS
Other rinks which qualified earlier Sunday for the B.C. finals were those from Kamloops—Ray Ottem, skip, Cy Glover, Dr. Mel Ottem and Harry Maralia—and Vernon—Lin Valair, skip, Doug Weir, Bill Clark and Cammy LeBlond.

The Kelowna Curling Club was host for the first time that the zone system, established last year, has been used in the province. Seventeen complete rinks entered here for the zone playdowns last week-end—Kamloops 3; Kelowna 3; Vernon 3; West Summerland 2; and one each from Peachland, Revelstoke, Armstrong, Enderby and Princeton.

The other two Kelowna rinks included Horace Brownlee, skip, brothers George and Bob Brownlee, and Fred Waite, and Pat Dolson, skip, Al Peiper, Carl Stevenson and Kris Kristjansson. The playdowns gave curlers their first opportunity to use matched rinks here.

Present for the playdowns here was Ken Kinnard, president of the Vernon Curling Club and representing the president of the British Columbia Curling Association.

BANQUET FOR CURLERS
On Saturday night, the Kelowna Curling Club hosted visiting curlers at a Dutch-Irish banquet at the Canadian Legion Hall here from 6-10 p.m.

Canadians take sluggish Packers 7-3 at Vernon

(Special to The Courier)
VERNON — Vernon Canadians broke from the barrier into a 4-0 first-period lead and coasted in for an easy 7-3 win over the sluggish Kelowna Packers here Thursday night in a ragged, loosely-played OSHL encounter.

Canadians pelted 23 shots at goalie Doug Stevenson in the opening period when the Packers appeared unable to untrack from their own zone.

Vernon extended it to 5-0 with a singleton in the second and eased up in the final period when Mike Durban killed Sofiak's shutout hopes with a well-executed goal at 2:50. Packers rallied briefly but could manage to cut the margin only one goal in outscoring the home team 3-2.

Dick Butler scored twice to pace the winners with Tom Stecyk, Don Jakes, Leo Lucchini, Jack Miller and Johnny Harms adding the others.

Bill McCulley and Frank Hoskins completed the Packers' going.

Goalkeeping featured the wide-open game with Sofiak displaying his earlier aplomb and getting better defensive support with the return of Bill Geary while Stevenson was left to carry the big load for the Packers. Vernon outshot Kelowna 40-33 during the night.

Referee Bill Neilson handed out seven minors, four of them to Kelowna.

SUMMARY:
First period—1. Vernon, Jakes (Lucchini) 2:51; 2. Vernon, Stecyk (Lucchini) 3:46; 3. Vernon, Lucchini (Geary) 8:55; 4. Vernon, Miller (Davison, Butler) 14:30. Penalties—Geary, Hanson, Culey, Hoskins.
Second period—5. Vernon, Butler (Miller) 10:50. Penalty—Butler.
Third period—6. Kelowna, Durban (Kivik) 2:50; 7. Kelowna, McCulley (Kell) 7:07; 8. Vernon, Butler (Davison, Miller) 8:47; 9. Kelowna, Hoskins (Middleton, Carlson) 9:10; 10. Vernon, Harms (Stecyk) 16:15. Penalties—McLeod, Hoskins.

Oilers and Gee-Whizzes beat Penticton hoop teams

B.A. Oilers upset Penticton Omegas in a fast and exciting men's senior "B" league hoop game in Kelowna high gymnasium Saturday, while Kelowna Gee-Whizzes defeated Penticton women's team to collect their first win in the Okanagan Valley league this season.

Oilers, coached by Hank Tosten, came back after a first-quarter which saw Omegas leading 16-12. Locals surged ahead in the second frame, scoring 17 points to Penticton's 13, and tying the tilt at 29-29 at half time. Kelowna outshot the Southern squad 19-12 in the third quarter to make the fixture stand at 48-41 in Kelowna's favor. After staging a come back in the fourth frame which saw them outscore Kelowna 16-14 Omegas fell at the hands of B.A. Oilers to the score of 62-57.

High scorer for the encounter was Mickey Martino of Oilers with a total of 25 points. Out of ten free shots Martino managed to pot nine. Oilers are bringing Martino up from his home town of Oliver for all their important games.

This was the third time in as many games that Oilers defeated Omegas.

Oilers play their last league game of the season this Wednesday in Kelowna High gym against Rutland. Game time is nine o'clock with a high school preliminary.

The brand of basketball improved greatly this year and all games to date have been close and exciting which have appealed to fans.

FIRST VICTORY
In racking up their first victory of the season, Gee-Whizzes edged out Penticton 35-34. Each team made eight points in the opening frame. In the second quarter Penticton outscored Kelowna 10-4. Gee-Whizzes under the coaching of Ron Gee outshot Penticton 12-8 in the third quarter. The fourth quarter saw the leadership change hands frequently. When the final whistle blew Gee-Whizzes were about as surprised as anyone at the fact they had a 35-34 victory on their hands.

Herbert, of Penticton, was high scorer with 11 points and team mate Buffman was right behind with 10 points. Langmo and Underhill were Kelowna's high scorers as they each collected eight points.

Both games were fast, close and hard fought.

Kelowna Packers lose first two road games to Spokane Flyers by 5-3 and 3-0 scores

(By Canadian Press)

SPOKANE, Wash.—After trailing 2-0 midway through the game, Spokane Flyers and Hughie Scott exploded Sunday for a 5-3 Okanagan Western International inter-league victory over Kelowna Packers here.

The win gave Flyers a clean sweep of their two-game series as they clipped Kelowna 3-0 Saturday.

With Spokane behind 2-0 midway through the second period, Scott came to life with a rare genuine hat-trick, scoring three unanswered goals to give Spokane a 3-2 lead by the end of the period.

Spokane outscored Kelowna 2-1 in the final period, leading 5-2 before Ken Amundrud closed out the scoring for Kelowna. Mike Durban and Don Culey got the other Packers' goals, while Dan McDougall and Bill Ramsden got Spokane's third-period goals.

Goalie Jerry Fodey got his third shutout of the season Saturday night.

Fodey made 24 saves, half of them in the second period.

After a scoreless first period, Doug Toole flipped in the winning goal unassisted at 5:01 of the second. Bill McNally and Red Tilson both scored late in the third.

The Sunday game was rated the "best game witnessed on Spokane ice this season." Play was clean throughout. Spokane outshot Kelowna 27-25.

The Packers left Spokane this morning enroute to Kimberley where they will meet the Dynamiters tonight. Tuesday night Kelowna meets Nelson in the playoffs and on Wednesday, they clash with Trail Smoke Eaters. Packers return to Kelowna next Thursday where they will engage Spokane Flyers that same evening.

Kamloops wins fourth game in five starts

KAMLOOPS—Ken Ulyot's Kamloops Elks made it four wins in five outings in the new year here Saturday night when they trimmed second place Vernon Canadians 6-3 in a clean, hard-skating OSAHL contest.

Elks displayed a driving brand of hockey all the way that netted them two goals in each of the three periods while Canucks took, a period to get warmed up.

Kamloops hit the scoresheet at 10:20 of the first when Johnny Millard converted a relay from Don Slater and goalie Hal Gordon. It was Gordon's first point of the season. Gunnar Carlson made it 2-0 for Elks 33 seconds later as Kamloops continued to dominate the play.

Andy Clovechok and Billy Hyrcuk scored for Elks in the second session but Canadians came to life when Leo Lucchini and Tom Stecyk moving the Agaters within striking distance. However the Elks just weren't to be denied the victory as they maintained the pace in the finale with Chuck Henderson blinking the light at 14:22, followed by a reply from Tom Stecyk of Vernon at 16:50. Andy Clovechok clinched things for Kamloops at 17:30 when he flipped his second goal of the game past Johnny Slink in the Canucks' pipes.

Referee Bill Neilson had an easy time of it with only two penalties called, both to Vernon players.

Pen High Lakers beat Kelowna cage team 70-47

Pen High Lakers rolled into Kelowna High School gym last Friday night like a party of hunters out to get their limit. They got their game and speed out of the Orchard City as quickly as they entered it, getting their "bag" they bewitched, bothered and bewildered Kelowna High Golden Owls to the tune of 70-47.

Lakers threw a dragnet over Owlville's gymnasium in the opening frame collecting 17 points to Owls' seven. At half time the scoreboard showed a more than convincing 28-12 lead in favor of Lakers. They outshot Owls in the third quarter, getting 24 points to locals' 11, but Owls came back with a thud in the final stanza and outshot the southern team 24-18.

Budge Winter's hard work finally paid off in points as he ended up high point collector with 14 points for Owls. Burch, of Pen High, was second in line for scoring honors as he garnered 13 points. Every player on the Lakers figured in the scoring and six Owls scored points.

OWLETTES VICTORIOUS
Owlettes set back a confused girls' "A" team from Princeton High 10-10. They led a disorganized squad from the south 5-4 at half time and 18-4 at three-quarter time.

High scorer was Thelma Gagnon, of Owlville, as she potted a total of nine points. Purich, of Princeton, was second, with five points. Only two Princeton players managed to figure in the scoring, while seven local girls scrambled onto the score sheet.

"B" BOYS SETBACK
Owlville's "B" boys' team was the only club from Kelowna to date defeat Friday night as they were pinned 48-30 by Princeton's "B" team. This was the "B" team's first loss of the season. Princeton outplayed Kelowna 9-2 in the opening frame and then held a 22-11 lead at half time. The southerners outshot locals 19-13 in the third quarter and then Kelowna bounced back to pot 11 points to Princeton's eight. Cereon was high point man of the tilt as he collected 30 points for Princeton.

Albert Constantine of Kelowna was second high man as he netted nine points.

1 Could eliminate

ous loss of life was avoided by nothing short of miracles. Cars and trucks have crashed through the curved bridge railings and some have fallen to the floor of the ravine. At least one Greyhound bus, loaded with Christmas passengers, went over the bank on the blind turn. These serve as but examples of many more accidents.

COURTING DANGER

We have escaped fatalities up to the present.

But a serious accident is bound to happen if this section of the highway is not corrected soon. Human life is precious. A small sum of money spent now can save human life.

There is a saying among railway and highway men that "we must get the life out of the bridge." They mean that when a bridge is built it cost so much and its life should be so many years if it is to return its value.

This writer believes that one human life is worth more than "the life" of the present Powers Creek bridge.

Especially, when these lives can be saved and injuries prevented at a small financial outlay and at a tremendous saving to the operators of motor vehicles.

A survey by a competent engineer indicates that this section can be straightened at a cost of roughly $100,000. The outside figure is placed at $125,000 but this is considered excessive and includes over-estimates "to be on the safe side."

The suggestion is a concrete box culvert for the creek, five feet by ten feet and about 250 feet long. This would be big enough to carry the creek even in flood.

A cut would be made through the gravel bank on the south side, eliminating the bad corners, and the road would run over a fill on a gentle three percent curve to the top of the hill on the north side. In other words, the road would follow approximately the present line of the telephone poles.

COSTLY FOR VEHICLES

Half a dozen corners or curves would be eliminated; the dangerous curved bridge would go. A straight section of highway, 1,200 feet long, would replace the present conglomeration of curves, corners, bridge and grades.

All this for roughly $100,000. And saving life, too!

But this thing goes further than that. Truck operators claim that the present short section over Powers Creek is equal in cost to another half-mile of highway at least. Curves, corners, down and up grades are costly. They mean extra use of brakes, tires, gasoline, oil and, yes, time.

The cost of the present Powers Creek section, truck operators say, means 20 to 25 cents extra every time a truck goes over it.

To a lesser degree, the same applies to passenger cars. Just for the sake of argument, let's assume that, if it costs a truck between 20 and 25 cents, the cost to the average vehicle is 10 cents. This, mark you, is only operating costs and does not include the property damage cost sustained by vehicles in accidents.

Seven hundred vehicles a day is a very conservative estimate of the traffic on this section of 97. The straightening of that short section would save the motoring public $700 a day. In four years the public would have been saved an amount equal to the entire cost of reconstruction!

And property damage prevented!

And deaths prevented!

Premier Bennett stated last week here that the people of the Okanagan had no conception of the traffic which would be using Highway 97 within a few years.

He said the highway was to be modernized throughout; that the Summerland-Peachland reconstruction is to be rushed.

MACHINERY ON HAND

Now is the time to correct the Powers Creek situation. The machinery will be here; it is too small a job to bring heavy equipment in to do, so let's do it while machinery is available.

It is now the worst stretch on the whole highway. It will be more of a danger and more of a bottleneck when the rest of the highway is modernized. Every additional car on the highway increases the accident potential on that maze of curves and crooked bridge.

If the department of public works does not correct it—soon—the officials will have to conclude the officials are derelict in their duty.

Mrs. Maddock is survived by her husband, a son, John, of Westbank, a daughter, Mrs. Joan Twiname, and six grandchildren.

Total of $5,731 collected in cancer drive last year

Total of $5,731.48 was raised in last year's Conquer Cancer campaign, an increase of $1,731.48 over the set quota for the Kelowna division of the B.C. Division of the Canadian Cancer Society.

Mrs. C. R. Reid, president, informed the annual meeting held recently in the South Okanagan Health Unit building.

Since then the Kelowna unit has been informed that it has been bequeathed $2,000 by a Peachland lady. This amount will be credited to the 1954 campaign funds, quota for which will be the same as last year—$4,000. The drive will open about April 1, with Rex Marshall again acting as campaign chairman.

Mrs. Reid expressed her appreciation for the privilege of representing her local unit at the eleventh annual meeting of the B.C. Division held in Vancouver last March, and the annual meetings of the B.C. Cancer Society Board of which she is a director, and the B.C. Cancer Foundation. These meetings, Mrs. Reid said, inspire one to carry on with greater zest than ever in this noble cause.

Regarding welfare, Mrs. Reid pointed out that it is the purpose of the local unit to make sure that no person shall be forced to delay or forego medical treatment due to the costs that cancer incurs; which costs are not confined to treatment. They involve expenses in going to and from the place of treatment; housekeeper services; boarding and nursing home care; V.O.N. attention in the home, and drugs. These are the expenses undertaken for indigent cancer patients, and it is well to tell people that the B.C. Cancer Institute bills a patient according to what he or she can afford to pay.

NO PATIENT REFUSED

No patient is turned away because of inability to pay for treatment, and each patient, regardless of income, receives every treatment available. The Kelowna unit is only one of eighty-eight units in B.C. that is carrying out this purpose, and the strenuous work and tireless devotion to one cause which has been shown by this unit effort is being appreciated by thousands of people in British Columbia.

C. R. Bull, a director of the Cancer Foundation, reported on the annual meeting of that organization, held last November, and stated that the Institute's new building, opened during 1953 and made possible by bequests, legacies and campaign donations, is second to none on the North American continent.

MODERN BOARDING HOUSE

The next objective, Mr. Bull went on, is to build a modern boarding house beside the Institute, where out-of-town patients will stay when receiving treatment. The present temporary building, though not nearly big enough, is nevertheless a little heaven on earth because of the many services rendered the patients by the Womens Auxiliary to the Foundation.

Mrs. F. E. Thompson, secretary, reported five meetings held during the year and two resolutions passed, as follows:

(1) That our assistance program include payment of essential examinations for diagnostic purposes.

(2) That we are in favor of supporting the automobile association in their efforts to have the laws re dangerous and drunken driving made more severe.

Two films on cancer were shown; assistance in four welfare cases provided and also Christmas hampers delivered where needed.

The name of the Cancer Society is now included in the telephone directory under the number 2441, thus enabling those needing help or information to contact the secretary.

CANCER FORUM

At last week's meeting Mrs. Reid was appointed delegate to the annual meeting in Vancouver in March, and it was stated that a cancer forum will be held in Kelowna during the fourth week in March when talks by prominent doctors from the coast will be given, followed by discussion. Films will also be shown.

As soon as materials are received from Vancouver work parties for cutting out and sewing for the Cancer Clinic will be organized.

EXECUTIVE MEMBERS

The executive for 1954 was appointed as follows: Honorary president, Dr. W. J. Knox; president, Mrs. C. R. Reid; first vice-president and treasurer, A. H. Povah; secretary, Mrs. J. F. Thompson.

Directors: Dr. W. Anderson, officiating in professional capacity and representing Gyro, Dr. D. A. Clark, South Okanagan Health Unit, Miss Woodhouse, welfare; C. R. Bull, Okanagan Mission; Mrs. V. Van der Vliet, Vernon Road; E. Hewlett, East Kelowna; E. Archer-Houblon, Okanagan Mission; E. Mugford, Rutland.

Joan McIntosh Veterans' welfare officer in city welcomed home after operation for five days

Twelve-year-old Joan McIntosh, who was brutally assaulted by a 14-year-old youth November 28, returned to the welcoming arms of her family Thursday afternoon.

The little girl underwent a serious brain operation in Vancouver. According to her father, W. E. McIntosh, she is "well on the road to recovery" and her memory is much better than it was before Christmas.

Joan was released from the Kelowna hospital in time to spend Christmas with her family, but later went to Vancouver for the delicate brain operation. The back of her head was crushed in three different places, and she also received facial injuries and a badly bruised hand.

The youth, Robert L. Boyer, who appeared in juvenile court, was later remanded to higher court, and was sentenced to six months' imprisonment at Oakalla and recommended for the Borstal Institution.

Any veteran wishing to interview him should contact the secretary at the Canadian Legion.
